

Live Reading Information

This message goes out to all who purchase a live reading.

Thank you for ordering a live reading with me. All live readings are done via Skype. Upon completion of your payment I will contact you with available time slots. (If I haven't done this yet I will be shortly)

Please be sure to choose a time that is convenient where you can be free from distractions and interruptions. Please plan to show up online a few minutes early so that we can test the connection, etc. and not cut into your actual reading time. (most important if you haven't used Skype before – if you have, this step isn't necessary) This helps things flow more smoothly!

If I don't have it already, please send your Skype ID in advance so I can add you to my contacts. If you do not already use Skype – I can call your telephone number, you will still receive a recording of our session.

If you need to reschedule due to unforeseen circumstances I will do my best to accommodate you, but please give me as much notice as possible. I don't like "no shows" with no explanation and I am not inclined to reschedule those. If it's a legitimate need I am certainly understanding, just contact me – please.

Code of Ethics:

I understand that all situations are different. It is my promise to you that I will not jump to conclusions nor judge you based on your questions (within reason lol if you tell me you are an axe murderer or something I probably will ;)) the point being, I know the world and humans are complex subjects and nothing is ever "black or white" there are a lot of grey areas in life.

You have my word that I will look into your questions with objectivity and compassion. I don't care about your gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, religious beliefs or lack thereof etc. We are all humans having a human experience.

I cannot read a third party without their permission. In other words don't ask me what is going on in another person's life that isn't connected with you as that crosses a boundary that I am not comfortable with. In the context of a relationship with a third person I can answer questions as they pertain to your situation and how they affect you but I can't and won't "be nosey" :) To clarify - a question like "my husband has been talking a lot to this woman at work can you tell me if I should be concerned?" - this is fine. An example of what is not fine - My neighbour Sally has had an unusual visitor every night this week - who is it and why are they there? - Not OK because it doesn't concern you specifically :)...

I don't answer questions about death other "taboo" subjects. Even if I could answer a question about death would you really want to know? Besides it doesn't work ;)

I, nor the cards, never tell anyone what to do. Free will is the greatest gift given to us and it is our use of free will that determines our destiny. Tarot is good for looking into what surrounds you, trends, etc. but cannot give anyone simple or easy answers or tell one "what to do" or what "is" going to happen.

It's purpose is to highlight the possibilities and where things appear to be headed so that you can alter your course (or not) as you deem necessary.

Privacy Policy:

At no time will I reveal what we talk about to a third party. That means if you refer someone to me, your information is still safe. I do not gossip or share information with others. The only exception would be in a situation like below where you tell me you are a danger to yourself or that you are in grave danger. Fortunately, this has been a very rare occurrence in my 25 years doing this – but it has happened, so for that reason I share the following:

Due to past misunderstandings Please know that if you tell me you are in a dangerous situation I will ask you if you have made contact with the proper authorities and/or social programs. It is my duty as an ethical person to question you regarding these matters - if you say to me "I am being abused" or "I want to die" etc. I take these things seriously. I do not presume to be a mental health professional or social worker - however as a fellow human being if you tell me you are in trouble I will ask you these questions because it is the right thing to do. ABUSE/VIOLENCE IS NEVER OK.

Before your reading:

I will need you to contact me with your Skype ID. If you do not have Skype you can download it for free.

Focus on what you would like to address and come up with a few clear, concise questions. The clearer and more concise your question the easier and faster it is for me to pull the cards and read them for you. (How stable does my job look for the next six months is a better question that “tell me about career”...)

Avoid phrasing questions with words like “will I ever”. Forever is a very long time and free will determines one's fate. For this reason “ever” questions are vague and the answers you receive are not likely to be as accurate. A better example is can we look at my financial outlook for the coming year?

This tighter focus gives you a better read and more to work with so that you can change course if you don't like where things are headed. If you change course now, then obviously five years from now will be radically different.

Try to focus questions/areas of concern to a short time span usually a few months to a year max. This gives you more accurate and more workable results.

If you wish to email me your questions before your reading feel free to do that, but you don't have to. I do recommend however having your questions written out for yourself. The more prepared we both are the smoother the reading session will go :)

A few minutes before your scheduled time I will send you an text message to check that everything is running smoothly. I create audio recordings of the chats for you and will send them after the reading is over.

These audios are saved by me only for a short time, so it is your responsibility to save the file and keep it.

During Your Reading:

I will be pausing during periods where I am drawing your cards etc. so if I seem quiet for a time that's why :).

Please wait until after a question has been addressed or a spread done before asking more questions.

That will keep things from getting confusing :) When I am ready I will let you know and then we can explore something further if necessary.

If you have any questions or concerns about the process feel free to email me 24 hours or more in advance of your reading so I have time to address your concerns.

Finally, by purchasing a reading from me you agree that readings are not a substitute for proper medical, legal, or psychiatric advice etc. You are in charge of your own destiny and choices and I am not responsible for choices you make in response to a reading. Readings are designed to show options, potential outcomes, and possibilities – not to take away your freedom of choice or limit your options. Readings are “for entertainment purposes only”.

Thank you!
